truth and you

Scripture Story: Acts 4:32–5:11.

Commentary: The Acts of the Apostles (or Unlikely Leaders), chapter 7.

Key Text: Acts 5:1, 2.

PREPARING TO TEACH

I. SYNOPSIS

One of the most compelling snapshots of generosity in the Bible is found in Acts 4:32–36. Following that poignant picture of God’s people “sharing everything they had” and giving “to anyone as he had need” is the unsettling story of Ananias and Sapphira. The juxtaposition of the narratives is jolting to say the least.

Ellen White offers insightful commentary on both stories. Speaking of the generosity in the early Christian church she writes: “This liberality on the part of the believers was the result of the outpouring of the Spirit. The converts to the gospel were ‘of one heart and of one soul.’ One common interest controlled them—the success of the mission entrusted to them; and covetousness had no place in their lives. Their love for their brethren and the cause they had espoused, was greater than their love of money and possessions” (The Acts of the Apostles, pp. 70, 71).

Referring then to the story of Ananias and Sapphira, Ellen White comments: “In sharp contrast to the example of benevolence shown by the believers, was the conduct of Ananias and Sapphira, whose experience, traced by the pen of Inspiration, has left a dark stain upon the history of the early church” (The Acts of the Apostles, p. 71).

This lesson offers extreme examples from Scripture of both hypocrisy and integrity. You cannot escape the radical calling of authenticity and God’s uncompromising character in this story. So present the story and let the students grapple with the gritty and messy dissonance in the text. You might just read the passage, and a lively discussion about integrity, hypocrisy, and giving is likely to follow.

II. TARGET

The students will:

- Be exposed to the best and worst of the early Christian church. (Know)
- Grapple with the seriousness of God’s judgment. (Feel)
- Be challenged to live a life of integrity and generosity. (Respond)

III. EXPLORE

Stewardship, Seventh-day Adventist Beliefs, No. 21

We are God’s stewards, entrusted by Him with time and opportunities, abilities and possessions, and the blessings of the earth and its resources. We are responsible to Him for their proper use. We acknowledge God’s ownership by faithful service to Him and our fellow human beings, and by returning tithe and giving offerings for the proclamation of His gospel and the support and growth of His church. Stewardship is a privilege given to us by God for nurture in love and the victory over selfishness and covetousness. Stewards rejoice in the blessings that come to others as a result of their faithfulness. (Gen. 1:26–28; 2:15; 1 Chron. 29:14; Haggai 1:3–11; Mal. 3:8–12; Matt. 23:23; Rom. 15:26, 27; 1 Cor. 9:9–14; 2 Cor. 8:1–15; 9:7).

I. GETTING STARTED

Activity

Refer the students to the What Do You Think? section of their lesson. After they have completed it, discuss their responses.

Illustration

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., became a millionaire at an early age. Sometime after that he became a billionaire and was dubbed the “richest man in the world.”

However, not everyone thought highly of Mr. Rockefeller. Many of his aggressive business practices led to the destruction and dissolution of smaller companies until his company, Standard Oil, had almost a complete monopoly on oil production in the United States.

At the age of 56 America’s first billionaire retired from his company and became a philanthropist with the goal “to promote the well-being of mankind throughout the world.” It is reported that he returned a tithe and that he gave much of his money away to universities, churches, hospitals, and medical research.

Today many significant discoveries in medicine are the result of money given by the Rockefeller Foundation. It is reported that his foundation has given away more money than Rockefeller earned in his lifetime. Eventually his large company was broken up into several smaller ones, but he continued with his great acts of benevolence. His goal was to live to be 100, but he died at 97. However, he died knowing that his generosity had helped thousands and that the impact of that would be felt long after he was gone.

II. TEACHING THE STORY

Bridge to the Story

Jesus taught this principle long ago: “Give, and you will receive. You will be given much. Pressed down, shaken together, and running over, it will spill into your lap. The way you give to others is the way God will give to you” (Luke 6:38, NCV).

Giving is therapeutic. The more we give, the more we benefit. What do you see as the primary benefits of giving?

Out of the Story for Teachers

After you read the Into the Story section with your students, use the following questions to process it with them.

- Acts 4:32-35—Make a list of any similarities and differences that you see between the early Christian church described in this passage and your church today. How well would you have fit into the early church? How easy is it for you to share with others? What barriers to generosity do you see in our world today? How might God use you this week to reach out to someone in need?
- Acts 4:36, 37—What is your nickname? How did you get the name? Is there something about your nickname that expresses a truth about who you are? Joseph is best known by his nickname—“The encourager.” What is it about Joseph in verses 36 and 37 that merits a name like “the encourager”? Who is the most encouraging person you know? Explain. Who could use some encouragement today? What does God want you to do about it?
- Acts 5:1-11—Does God’s punishment of Ananias and Sapphira seem too severe to you? Why or why not? How would “great fear” be used by God in the early church? What do you think the members of the early church learned from God’s judgment of Ananias and Sapphira? How can you apply this in your life today?

Sharing Context and Background

Use the following information to shed more light on the story for your students. Share it in your own words.

William Barclay offers this commentary on the story of Ananias and Sapphira:

“This is one of the stories which demonstrate the almost stubborn honesty of the Bible. It might well have been left out because it shows that even in the early church there were very imperfect Christians; but the Bible refuses to present an idealized picture of anything. Once a court painter painted the portrait of Oliver Cromwell. Cromwell was disfigured by warts upon his face. The painter, thinking to please the great man, omitted the disfiguring warts. When Cromwell saw the picture, he said, ‘Take it away, paint me warts and all.’ It is one of the great virtues of the Bible that it shows us its heroes, warts and all.

“There is a certain encouragement in the story, for it shows us that even in its greatest days the church was a mixture of good and bad.”<sup>1</sup>

In Acts 5:1–8:3 we see both internal and external problems ravaging the early church. Inside there were dishonesty (5:1-11) and administrative problems (6:1-7). Externally, the church was being persecuted. Nevertheless, leaders stayed focused on what mattered the most—spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ.

This story is a reminder that the evil one was alive and active in the early church. Still today the church is under attack (see Ephesians 6:12; 1 Peter 5:8). While Satan’s fate was sealed at the cross, it will not be fully realized until Jesus comes again (see Revelation 20:10).

The sin that Ananias and Sapphira committed was not frugality or withholding money—it was their decision whether or not to sell the land and then how much of the money to donate. Their sin was lying to God and to His people—claiming they gave the whole amount while keeping some back for themselves, thus appearing to be more generous than they really were.

Still today, dishonesty, greed, and covetousness will destroy God’s church. All lies are evil, but when we lie to try to deceive God and His church, we seriously compromise our witness for Christ.

III. CLOSING

Activity

Close with an activity and debrief it in your own words.

Conclude by asking what the benefits are of being a giver. How are others impacted by their generosity? How does giving change the giver? What happens when giving people give too much? Or when the takers take too much? Talk about balancing giving with taking. Discuss ways your Sabbath School can model the generosity of the early church.

Summary

Share the following story and discuss with your students how it illustrates the principles of this lesson.

Wayne Cordeiro, pastor of New Hope Christian Fellowship O’ahu in Honolulu, Hawaii, writes:

“Some time ago some wonderful people in our church gave Anna, my wife, and me a dinner certificate to a nice restaurant for $100. We thought, Wow, a hundred bucks. Let’s go for it. We found a free evening. We dressed up. . . . I even washed and waxed my car, because we wanted to take it through the valet, and I didn’t want my Ford Pinto to look bad. The night came, and we were excited.

“We went to this ritzy restaurant and walked in. They gave us a nice, candlelit table overlooking a lagoon adjacent to a moonlit bay there in Hawaii. Oh, it was nice. . . .

Teaching From the Lesson

Refer your students to the other sections of their lesson.

- Key Text

Invite students to share the Key Text with the class if they have committed it to memory.

- Flashlight

Read the Flashlight statement, pointing out that most of the time it is from the commentary on this week’s story found in the book The Acts of the Apostles. Ask what relationship they see between the statement and what they have just discussed from Out of the Story.

- Punch Lines

Point out to your students the verses listed in their lesson that relate to this week’s story. Have them share the verse that spoke most directly to them and allow them to explain why they chose it.

- Further Insight

Ask them how the quote in Further Insight conveys the point of the story in this lesson.

Tips for Top-Notch Teaching

Experiential Learning

Jesus' teaching that "it is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35, NIV) is true—especially for young people. But how can you teach this truth in a way that it sticks and shapes generous kids?

Students are usually on the receiving end—they get food, clothing, education, and so on just given to them. Give them a chance to step outside the receiving role, however, and they learn the satisfaction of being the generous one, and they vibrate with joy. They feel grown up. It empowers them.

If you are serious about teaching your students generosity, you must make the experience their own. Take, for example, the typical food drive at the local school. Too often Mom or Dad throws some extra cans in the cart and the kids deliver the goods at school. It's a good start, but the kids aren't really participating in the process. All they're doing is delivering your purchase to the school.

The difference between Dad's $10 and the kids' $10 is the difference between watching generosity and learning generosity experientially. Let the students decide how they want to respond to what this lesson teaches. Encourage them to dream about aiding the homeless or funding a well in Africa or giving money to a needy family in the church—and then let them pay for it!

RABBI 101

"When the bill came, I said, 'Honey, why don't you give me the certificate.'

"She said, 'I don't have the certificate. I thought you brought it.'

"I said, 'You have to have it. You're supposed to have it. You're the wife!'

"She said, 'I don't have it.' And I thought, We are in deep yogurt. Here we are. We look rich, we act rich, we even smell rich. But if we don't have that certificate, it invalidates everything.

"There are times in our lives when we can look holy, we can act holy, we can smell holy. But without a relationship with the Lord, we're missing something essential. It's relationship that validates everything else."<sup>2</sup>

Remind the students about the reading plan that will take them through the inspired commentary of the Bible, the Conflict of the Ages Series. The reading that goes with this lesson is The Acts of the Apostles (or Unlikely Leaders), chapter 7.
