Key Text: Philippians 3:13, 14.

PREPARING TO TEACH

I. SYNOPSIS

Saul. Paul. The names alone almost write the story for us. They describe one man who lived two distinctly different lives. The apostle Paul is revered today, and rightly so, for helping to engineer the foundation of the Christian church. It is his letters, his life experiences, his holy boldness that gave shape to the faith.

Yet long before this titan of the faith set about his mission, he was on another. In his former life he is described as “breathing out murderous threats against the Lord’s disciples” (Acts 9:1, NIV). It would have been wonderful for the ancient church if Saul had been only a heavy breather, but there was much more to him. He presided over the murder of Stephen and many other believers. He was sincere in his efforts to rid the world of these troublesome followers of Jesus, but he was sincerely wrong.

This point is one to be emphasized as the lesson is taught. Sometimes we can be quite wrong in our assessment of another’s faith, so we should not be swift to condemn anyone. We must be led by God’s Word and the Holy Spirit in all our interactions with people of differing faiths.

Saul’s work of destruction was so thorough and efficient that Jesus had to arrest him, change his name, and set him on a different course. The journey begun at the Damascus road meeting with Jesus was a miracle of epic proportions. God took the man most dedicated to destroying His church and turned him into its chief exponent. This is what Christ wants to do in the life of all who accept conviction and submit their life to Him. When Paul sees Jesus face to face, his journey will be complete.

II. TARGET

The students will:

- Discover that God has a unique purpose and destiny for their lives. (Know)
- Be challenged to begin their journey with God and grow in grace with Him. (Feel)
- Share their new walk with God with others who are searching for God’s leading in their lives. (Respond)

III. EXPLORE

The Holy Scriptures, Seventh-day Adventist Fundamental Beliefs, No. 1

The Holy Scriptures, Old and New Testaments, are the written Word of God, given by divine inspiration. The inspired authors spoke and wrote as they were moved by the Holy Spirit. In this Word, God has committed to humanity the knowledge necessary for salvation. The Holy Scriptures are the supreme, authoritative, and the infallible revelation of His will. They are the standard of character, the test of experience, the definitive revealer of doctrines, and the trustworthy record of God’s acts in history (Ps. 119:105; Prov. 30:5, 6; Isa. 8:20; John 17:17; 1 Thess. 2:13; 2 Tim. 3:16, 17; Heb. 4:12; 2 Peter 1:20, 21).

TEACHING

I. GETTING STARTED

Activity

Refer the students to the What Do You Think? section of their lesson. After they have completed it, discuss their responses.

The objective of this activity is to get the students to think about what it takes to reach the prize for which one is striving. Every Olympic athlete we see on the world stage is one who has been training for many years to maximize the moment. Through the application of certain principles and hard work, they are transformed, able to pursue their dream of sport success.

In the Christian life there's a goal to be won, a prize worth striving for, and that prize is God, poured out in the person of Jesus Christ. Paul used many sports metaphors to make points about the Christian's journey to God. While life is not a game, we can learn much from those who dedicate their lives to achieving a dream.

"A devoted Christian, Dave Dravecky entrusted his life to God every morning. When a cancerous tumor in his arm threatened to cut short his career, Dave did not demand to be healed. Instead, he committed himself to God's will, and his quiet faith was a witness to millions.

"God worked a miracle for Dave Dravecky. Although his cancer operation required the removal of muscle that he used for pitching, against all odds he came back to play again. Thousands of San Francisco fans cheered wildly when he took the mound again at Candlestick Park. Incredibly, he even won the game.

"But the comeback miracle lasted less than a week. Dave was playing in Montreal, winning the game, when suddenly, as he pitched, his arm broke. He collapsed in a heap at the foot of the mound. The whole crowd heard that awful snap of the bone.

"As they carried Dave off the field he quietly affirmed his faith in God. That faith did not waver during long months of uncertainty. Finally, doctors determined that they had no choice but to amputate his arm, and they did.

"Did Dave become bitter when God did not heal him . . . ? Not at all. Secular sports writers around the country marveled at his faith, solid as a rock. . . . God displayed a miracle greater than physical healing in the amazing display of Dave's contented commitment.

"The apostle Paul experienced this rock-solid faith. He too suffered from an incurable physical affliction. Three times he asked God to miraculously heal him. God's response was plain. 'My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength is made perfect in weakness' (2 Corinthians 12:9, NKJV). Paul's answer is remarkable: 'I will rather boast in my infirmities. . . . I take pleasure . . . in distresses, for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then I am strong' (verses 9, 10, NKJV). . . .

"Like Dave Dravecky and the apostle Paul, God invites us to hang on to Him today with the hand of faith" (Mark Finley, Solid Ground, pp. 158, 159).

II. TEACHING THE STORY

Bridge to the Story

Share the following in your own words:

When we consider that Saul was persecuting God's church while claiming to be a part of God's family, it gives us pause. It was the Damascus road meeting with Jesus that started Paul's transformation. For the first time he saw how much his behavior was hurting Jesus. He wanted to be transformed. He no longer wanted to accept his life as it had been. That's the effect that Jesus has on those who look into His face.

Out of the Story for Teachers

After you read the Into the Story section with your students, use the following in your own words to process it with them:

The apostle Paul is one of the most famous Bible characters. Next to Jesus, he is perhaps the most widely quoted of all biblical writers. Most kids will know something of Paul's life story—his brushes with death, breaking out of jail by earthquake, being bitten by snakes, whippings, and so on. However, most of your students may not know about Paul's former life. Spend some time detailing his former exploits to give the backdrop to his awesome conversion.

Barnabas plays a very critical role in ushering Paul into his ministry. Barnabas' name means "son of consolation," and he truly lives up to his name. He is willing to put his reputation and "street cred" on the line to protect Paul. Ananias also comes in for high praise for his willingness to listen to God when He tells him to go

Tips for Top-Notch Teaching

Go Where They Are

If your students are members of the Facebook social network, consider sending them a message during the week preceding this lesson. Ask each of them to send you a three-sentence note describing the moment when they first accepted Jesus into their heart. Ask them to share the time and place where their transformation began. Note: not all kids will have done this, so be sure to include something in the note that lets all the kids know the responses are totally voluntary.

When you get to class, choose one or two notes to share. Ask the writers for permission to share their testimony, or better yet, ask them if they'd like to do it themselves.

to Saul. This gives us some idea of just how scary a person Saul was before his conversion experience.

Notice that Jesus is central to Paul's conversion, acceptance by the church brethren, and entry into ministry. Jesus is with Paul every step of the way, growing him into the man he was designed to be.

You may want to highlight the fact that Paul's physical blindness followed his spiritual blindness.

Blindness forces one to concentrate the mind. It heightens the other human senses. Perhaps Jesus wanted Paul to focus exclusively on Him without any distractions. This take-charge man who seemed to be indestructible was totally and completely helpless. He had to trust God.

Use the following as other teachable passages that relate to today's story: Psalm 51; Mark 5:1-15; John 4:17-29; Isaiah 30:15.

Sharing Context and Background

Use the following information to shed more light on the story for your students. Share it in your own words.

1. Long Time Coming. As is often the case, what seems like a momentary occurrence is a long time in the making. Ellen White notes that God had been trying for some time to get through to Saul. He was convicted by Stephen's sermon before the Jewish council. Sometimes he would toss and turn all night, fighting against the conviction that Jesus was indeed the Messiah (The Acts of the Apostles, pp. 116, 117).

When Jesus finally spoke to Saul for the first time with His own voice, it was the culmination of a long effort to meet with Saul. Now Jesus had his undivided attention.

2. Baptized With the Spirit. Jesus directed Ananias to lay his hand on Saul that he might be baptized with the Holy Spirit. This baptism occurred about three days after Saul's Damascus road encounter with Jesus. Saul had accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior

Teaching From the Lesson

Refer your students to the other sections of their lesson.

- Key Text

Invite students to share the Key Text with the class if they have committed it to memory.

- Flashlight

Read the Flashlight statement, pointing out that most of the time it is from the commentary on this week's story found in the book The Acts of the Apostles. Ask what relationship they see between the statement and what they have just discussed from Out of the Story.

- Punch Lines

Point out to your students the verses listed in their lesson that relate to this week's story. Have them share the verse that spoke most directly to them and allow them to explain why they chose it.

- Further Insight

Ask them how the quote in Further Insight conveys the point of the story in this lesson.

and Lord, but he still needed the filling of the Holy Spirit to make the work of Christ effectual in his life.

Before leaving His disciples, Jesus made this promise: “But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all the truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will glorify me because it is from me that he will receive what he will make known to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said the Spirit will receive from me what he will make known to you” (John 16:13-15, NIV).

The work of growing up into Christ is the work of the Holy Spirit. Paul needed the Spirit to fit him for his life’s work, and so do we.

3. Start Now. One of the beautiful parts of Paul’s transformation narrative is his immediate willingness to begin working for Christ. He is not careful to move slowly into ministry; he jumps in with both feet. Acts 9:19, 20 tells us that after he had broken his three-day fast, he immediately preached about Jesus in synagogues that He was the Son of God. One can only imagine the effect that the sight of Paul must have had on the congregants.

There’s an important point here. People who accept Jesus as their Savior must be allowed to engage in the work of leading others to Christ. They must not be given certain responsibilities until they are knowledgeable and grounded enough to meet those tasks, but they should not be held back from opportunities to tell their story.

III. CLOSING

Activity

Close with an activity and debrief it in your own words.

Invite the students to sit quietly with their eyes closed. Ask them to think of one change they’d like God to make in their lives. Tell them to focus on something that would help them to have a deeper relationship with God. Ask the students to pray silently for God’s help to make the change they seek.

After a minute or so, close with a prayer of thanks to God for answers to your prayers.

Summary

Share the following thoughts in your own words:

God is on a mission to save all humanity from the ravages of sin. In truth, He has already done so. God went the distance, the extra mile, when sent His Son Jesus to die for the sins of the world. Salvation is free and available to all who accept it.

The apostle Paul accepted Jesus’ call to a new life. Filled with the Holy Spirit, he set about to fulfill the destiny that God had outlined for him. From a life driven by destruction God created a life driven by love. Paul walked with Jesus until they two became one and he could exclaim: “For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain” (Philippians 1:21, NIV).

One day if we’re faithful, we will see Paul in heaven. We will be able to ask him whether the journey was worth all that he suffered. Perhaps his answer will be the same as it was when he wrote to the fledgling Roman church: “I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us” (Romans 8:18, NIV).

Remind the students about the reading plan that will take them through the inspired commentary of the Bible, the Conflict of the Ages Series. The reading that goes with this lesson is The Acts of the Apostles (or Unlikely Leaders), chapters 12-14.
